

BACHMAN CHAPEL LETTER.

A Visit To Newberry and The Lutheran Church—Two Marriages—Other Matters Of Interest.

Slighs, December 17.—Last Sunday morning it was my privilege, in company with Mr. L. I. Epting, to visit the home of our friend, Dr. O. B. Mayer, of Newberry, and thence to worship with the Lutherans of the Church of the Redeemer. The Rev. W. L. Seabrook, the pastor of the congregation, preached one of his usual good sermons. Rev. Mr. Seabrook is one of our ablest theologians. He never lacks for words and we have a right to believe that he is devoted to and absolutely concentrating his energies upon the performance of the work he has in hand. This is the first time I have worshipped with his congregation since the erection of their new church. When I last worshipped with them their old church stood beyond Col. E. H. Aull's residence. It was a very ordinary building. The contrast between the old building and the new is great. To speak in brief, I am willing to say that I have found the model church. The interior is simply magnificent. A prettier and better arranged church throughout it would be hard to find.

On the right of the pulpit stands the large pipe organ,—standing not only as an ornament, for it fills the whole church with such melodies as captivate the hearts of all within its walls. Miss Susie Summer, the accomplished daughter of Mr. C. E. Summer, is the organist. She is a master of the instrument and it is a treat for a lover of music to go to the Church of the Redeemer.

This congregation has just finished building a beautiful parsonage, which stands about fifty yards east of the church. This makes the church equipment complete at a cost of a little more than twenty thousand dollars. Where is there another congregation within the bounds of the South Carolina Lutheran Synod that has manifested such an interest in church work and that has made such improvements as this congregation has made in the past ten years? This church stands as a monument to Lutheranism in Newberry county. I was pleased to meet many of my friends who came to me in the church and gave me the hand of friendship and showed me that they were glad to have me with them. This, together with the good sermon, made me feel that it was good to be there.

After service I returned with Mr. Epting to the home of Dr. Mayer and there spent a few more pleasant hours. I love to visit homes where there is such hospitality as there is at Dr. Mayer's. It is a home of sunshine, where happiness, peace, love and devotion are found. Dr. Mayer is not only a man with a broad mind, but he is a man with a big heart. Newberry has a right to feel proud of such a man.

Mrs. H. R. Eppe has returned from a month's visit to her daughter, Mrs. S. A. Rikard.

It is with regret that it is announced that Mr. J. W. Richardson and Mrs. Caroline Cook are ill. A wave of matrimony struck the Phillips community this week on Tuesday, the 15th. Mr. George Seely and Miss Nancy Lominick were married by the Rev. P. U. E. Erick. Today, the 17th, at the residence of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bachman Lominick, Mr. W. W. Wicker, son of Mr. M. L. Wicker, will wed Miss Vera Lominick, the Rev. P. H. E. Derrick officiating. Congratulations to the couples!

Wish to congratulate Mayor E. H. Aull and the other city fathers on their refusal to allow another of wickedness and vulgarity enter the city.

Sarah Fellers, of Old Town, during a few days visiting relatives and friends in this section.

CONSTABLE PERRY'S PART.

Much Of The Credit For The Capture Of The Big Babb Distillery Due to His Efforts.

The following account of the part taken by Constable T. B. Perry, of Newberry, in the capture of the big John Q. Babb distillery in Greenville county, with 2,600 gallons of liquor, is taken from the report in the Greenville Mountaineer of the preliminary, as a result of which Babb was sent up to the higher court:

It was a plain and simple piece of detective work, the credit of which is due to J. E. Lightfoot, of Orangeburg, and T. B. Perry, of Newberry, of the dispensary force, who were sent here for the purpose of gaining the necessary information as to the illegal sale of liquor at a government distillery, which is not an easy thing to accomplish when the storekeeper and gauger is conniving at the illicit traffic, as was the case in this instance.

Mr. Lightfoot is employed as a detective and Mr. Perry is one of the constabulary force. They came here to remain during carnival week and were ordered to report to Chief Hall, from whom they received instructions and went to work in getting at the true inwardness of operations at the Babb distillery. Thanksgiving day was chosen as the time for introducing themselves upon the scene of action, and under the guise of being connected with the carnival, assuming the names of Jones and Horton, they found easy access to the confidence of Babb, who sold them two quarts of whiskey for a dollar, and threw in the drinks besides. Goldsmith, the colored storekeeper and gauger, was present when they offered to buy liquor, and Babb said there was no need of concealment so far as Goldsmith was concerned, as it was all right with him. On Friday, Nov. 27th, the officers went back and bought liquor in the day time at the distillery and at night at the Babb residence, where the price was still 50 cents per quart.

These purchases opened the way for the raid of Chief Hall and his associates on November 30th.

A Card of Thanks.

Editor Herald and News: Please allow me the privilege of returning my sincere thanks to my many friends who were kind to me during the last illness of my wife. I know of no words which can express to them the gratitude of my heart for their untiring kindness. While my heart is filled with grief and sorrow, yet I bow in humble submission to the will of Him who doeth all things well. May God bless each and every one of you for every deed of kindness that you showed us, is the sincere prayer of,

Yours respectfully,

M. L. Kinard.

January Designer.

"A California Calendar of Fruits and Flowers," by Jessie Juliet Knox, beautifies several pages of the January Designer; while of great practical interest is "Learning to be a Dressmaker," by Lilian C. Paschal. A good, explicit article on "Bead Work" will be highly appreciated by women fond of the newest fancy work, and for those who care for more practical handiwork the designs for babies' hoods, afghans and booties will be acceptable. Three excellent short stories, "Her First Leap Year," by Elizabeth Stark, Lucinda Edison's Four to Six," by J. L. Harbaur, and "Magic Yeast Cake," by Edwin L. Sabin, also a little parlor drama, "Grandmother's Silhouette," by Harvey Peake, furnish plenty of good reading matter. There are numerous other departments.

Sick Blood

Feed pale girls on Scott's Emulsion.

We do not need to give all the reasons why Scott's Emulsion restores the strength and flesh and color of good health to those who suffer from sick blood.

The fact that it is the best preparation of Cod Liver Oil, rich in nutrition, full of healthy stimulation is a suggestion as to why it does what it does.

Scott's Emulsion presents Cod Liver Oil at its best, fullest in strength, least in taste.

Young women in their "teens" are permanently cured of the peculiar disease of the blood which shows itself in paleness, weakness and nervousness, by regular treatment with Scott's Emulsion.

It is a true blood food and is naturally adapted to the cure of the blood sickness from which so many young women suffer.

We will be glad to send a sample to any sufferer.

Be sure that this is the form of a label is on the wrapper of every bottle of Emulsion you buy.
